COVER STORY

Emerging Asian Markets

While Macau remains the dominant casino market in Asia if not the world, other nations in the region are going forward with both short- and long-term gaming development programs. This list of countries and locales includes Singapore, Japan, Vietnam, South Korea and The Philippines, just to name a few. IGWB will profile the gaming development progress in some of these nations, and explore the issues that could spell success or failure for expanded wagering throughout Asia.

MARKET OUTLOOK

Spotlight: Dominican Republic

The Dominican Republic is home to a vibrant casino scene, with many gaming facilities directly tied to vacation resorts that attract overseas and regional tourism. This article will provide an overview of the Dominican Republic gaming market and focus in on some recent casino openings.

Lottery Revenue Analysis

This annual feature reviews all U.S. lotteries' fiscal 2007 financial performance, including sales, prizes, expenditures, and revenues to government. It is the current installment in a historical data series.

GAMES & TECHNOLOGY

Parimutuel Technology

Tracks across North America, bolstered by income generated by expansion into slot machine gaming, are now looking to upgrade the systems used to produce, show and track horserace wagering. This article will look at some of the new technologies and game types that are impacting the parimutuel betting industry.

Table Game Peripherals

The table game revival continues, and operators are increasingly looking toward tracking systems, bonusing features and other peripheral products to make table wagering both more enjoyable and profitable. IGWB will delve into some of the new technologies and trends in the table game peripherals marketplace.
